Dalley & Bath

10.16.10

NAMES Jenni Dalley and Thomas Bath LIVE IN Fremont OCCUPATIONS They're both architects WEDDING-DAY WEATHER Sunny; they're still thanking the relatives from Nevada for that NUMBER OF GUESTS 145 WEDDING COLORS Ocean chalcedony (the color of the gem in her engagement ring), gray, juniper, sage DÉCOR INSPIRATION The open skies and sagebrush of Nevada, where he's from, and the evergreens of the Pacific Northwest, where she's from FAMILY TRADITIONS They asked the minister from the groom's small hometown to do the Episcopal ceremony NONTRADITIONAL ELEMENTS They wrote their vows in small Field Notes sketch notebooks, then gave blank versions to all the guests as favors FAVORITE CEREMONY MOMENT When the minister asked if there were any objections to their marriage, the groom turned to the audience and jokingly held a menacing glare. Everyone including the bride burst out laughing. UNEXPECTED MOMENT As she walked down the aisle, the string trio segued from classical music to Sigur Rós's "Hoppipolla;" the groom and a friend arranged this ahead of time to surprise her BEST RECEPTION DISH The groom, a meat eater, loved the rosemary-infused polenta stacks, which were offered as a main dish for the bride and other vegetarians FAVORITE RECEPTION MOMENT The groom paused for a moment to take an iPhone snap of the guests while the couple gave their thank-you speech; he said he just really wanted to preserve the memory THE DAY IN THREE WORDS Dreamy, joyful, hygge—a Danish word that evokes coziness, companionship, and well-being HONEYMOON Maui and Kauai, Hawaii
